

What Is Disability Benefit Prep?

A simple, plain-language guide to how we help veterans get the rating they've earned.

What We Do

Disability Benefit Prep is a coaching service for veterans navigating the VA disability claims process. We're not a law firm, and we don't file your claim for you. Instead, we walk beside you step by step so you always know exactly what to do next, whether you're filing your first claim, appealing a decision, or working toward a higher rating.

How It Works

1 Book a free consult

A short call where we learn about your service, your conditions, and where you're at in the process.

2 Pick the right package

First-Time Filer, Appeals & Supplemental Claims, or Operation Full Spectrum, whichever matches where you are today.

3 We build your plan

A personalized, step-by-step checklist built around your specific conditions, not a generic template.

4 We work it together

Coaching calls plus unlimited email and text support, so nothing falls through the cracks along the way.

5 You file with confidence

By the time anything goes to VA, you know exactly what it says, why it says it, and what happens next.

What Makes It Different

- Plain language. No legal jargon, no confusing VA-speak.
- Built around your conditions and your timeline, not a one-size-fits-all template.
- Ongoing support, not a one-time PDF you're left to figure out alone.
- We explain the "why" behind every step, not just the "what."

Who It's For

- First-time filers who don't know where to start.
- Veterans appealing a denial or a rating that's too low.
- Veterans with multiple conditions working toward 100% Permanent & Total.
